Young Rape-Slayer Given 199 Years

CHICAGO—A young Army private who confessed to raping and strangling a 17-year-old girl he met at a party in a park Aug. 6, was sentenced to 199 years in prison last week.

Henry Matthews, 18, of Detroit, was given the heavy sentence by a Criminal Court judge after he pleaded guilty to a murder charge. He will not be eligible for parole until he has served 66 years and four months of the sentence.

The trial judge, Thomas E. Kluczynski commented:

Doctor, Suicide, To Be Buried Here

BALTIMORE, Md. — Dr. Marion E. Wilson, who came here from his native home in Indianapolis to rise to top rank as one of this city's most outstanding and successful physicians and surgeons, committed suicide in firing a bullet into his brain last Monday at noon.

His body, sprawled on a bed on the second floor of his well-appointed home at 2628 Longwood street, was discovered by Mrs. Nettie Ferebee, a life-long friend of the family and the only person in the home at the time.

The grey-haired woman, called to the home by the wealthy physician, told newsmen and police when they arrived at the scene that the doctor had appeared despondent since his wife, Margaret, 24, had packed her belongings and left Friday last week.

His mother, Mrs. Mattie Wilson, 741 W. North street, Indianapolis, where the doctor was born about 50 years ago, arrived here Tuesday evening after being informed of her beloved son's death by an Indianapolis physician and friend after receipt of a phone call from friends here.

Plan Union For Service Workers At Gen. Hospital

An attempt is being made to organize employees of General hospital, a representative of the Building Service Employees of Central Indiana, Local 281, AFL-CIO said this week.

The organizing attempt is being made by H. R. Mueller, international organizer for the union, who revealed his application for a job at the hospital last summer was turned down.

Dr. Robert Lowe, hospital superintendent, said about 300 to 350 orderlies, nurses aids, kitchen and laundry help, and maintenance workers would be eligible. Most of these are Negroes.

SEVERAL WORKERS told The Recorder this week that the meager wages of these groups had been cut at the first of this year and that a number had been fired with-

WASHINGTON — Use of dope is responsible for 50 per cent of all crimes committed in major cities and 25 per cent of all those reported in the nation, Senator Daniel (D-Tex.) declared this week.

Daniel headed a Senate judiciary subcommittee which investigated the illegal sources of the narcotics traffic during 37 days of hearings in 11 cities.

The committee's report said the traffic in illicit drugs has trebled in this country since end of World War II, and asked legislation under which the death penalty could be applied to smugglers and peddlars of heroin in extreme cases.

THE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDED:

Legislation to permit federal narcotics agents to tap telephones under "sealed court orders" and use such evidence in courts so that the big operators who worked behind the scenes could be apprehended more easily, and that:

A treaty be negotiated with Mexico for a mutual fight against the dope traffic across the border.

Daniel said 90 per cent of the overland smuggling of heroin and marijuana is across the Mexican border into Texas, California and Arizona, and:

Outlawing of the sale of heroin which is said to be used by 80 per cent of the addicts in this country.

Convict Slayer Of Lola Barbee Singing Star

A young hospital orderly, who told a Criminal Court Jury he shot to death Lola Mae Barbee then shot himself in a suicide attempt because he "had nothing to live for" without her, was found guilty of second degree murder and given life in the Indiana State Prison Friday of last week.

Edgar Everett Shively, 29, former employe of General hospital, drew the sentence from Judge Scott A. McDonald, Criminal Court 2, at the end of a four-day trial.

The young man told the court he was not remorseful, or even sorry he shot the attractive night club singer. The shooting occurred in the 27-year-old woman's nicely furnished apartment at 164 W. 9th last Feb. 7.

The unbridled murder rate which took an enormous toll in Negro lives here last year swept into 1956 with equal vigor as two killings were reported during the past week.

An Eastside man shot his wife to death last Saturday during a row over the woman's "running the streets," and a Westside mother of nine shot her husband through the head twice with a shotgun early Wednesday morning after the man allegedly attempted to rape his 14-year-old step-daughter and force his wife to commit an unnatural sex act.

Held on charges of murder were Clifton James, 44, 1823 Bellefontaine, and Willie Mae Martin, 28, 1019 Colton. Dead were Gertrude James, 31, and Jesse Martin, 28.

JAMES, IN A SIGNED CONFESSION to police, said he "accidentally" shot his wife after pulling a .38 caliber revolver in an attempt to "scare" her.

He said he and the woman had been living as common-law man and wife for eight years.

On the day of the shooting, he related, he visited his landlord, John G. Riley, at Veteran's Hospital on W. 10th Street, and stopped at a tavern before returning home.

After finding his wife was not at home, he said, he went to another tavern. The second time he arrived home his wife and another woman were there and the two women drank a half-pint of gin.

"I asked her why she did not fix something to eat," he said, "and she told me she was going out."

"I told her she wasn't going to leave the house anymore tonight and I went to Mr. Riley's room and got his gun."

He said he returned to the living room where his wife was sitting in a chair and said he began talking to her "about running around the streets and not fixing anything to eat."

"I pulled the hammer of the gun back to scare her. I thought she would run."

"She didn't get up out of the chair and the gun went off. I grabbed her head and

MRS. MARTIN, who told police she shot her husband as he lay in bed and her nine children ate breakfast, was scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court 3 Thursday afternoon.

Police were called to the Martin home at 6:30 Wednesday morning.

Patrolmen Oscar Donahue and William Bryant, Car 29, found Martin lying on his right side in a blood-soaked bed and blood spattered over the wall near the bed.

Mrs. Martin handed the officers a .410 gauge shotgun and told a shocking tale which included charges that her husband, father of her seven children, was a sex degenerate who on many occasions had threatened to kill her if she reported him to police.

The night before the killing, she said, she returned home from choir practice at Greater Bion Baptist Church only to find her husband in an argumentative mood.

They argued throughout the night, she said, after her husband allegedly demanded that she participate in an unnatural sex act. "He threatened to kill me if I didn't," she told officers, claiming her husband accosted her with a six-cell flashlight as a weapon.

During the argument, she stated, her 14-year-old daughter told her mother that while she was away at choir rehearsal her father had

Magazine Writer Says Till's Boasting Led To His Murder, Now Admitted By His Slayers

(Editor's Note: The following story is submitted with the suggestion that it be weighed critically before the alleged facts are recited are accepted as authentic, in view of the lack of corroborated evidence by impartial sources.)

Another story presented by Moses Wright, uncle of Till, and appearing in the February issue of Front Page Detective magazine, gives a different version. We suggest both versions be read before a decision as to authenticity of facts is made.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 — Emmett (Bobo) Till's bragging that he "had relations with white women," and his bravado in the face of a whipping by the half-brothers J. W. Milam and Roy Bryant, led to his killing, statements attributed to the two men indicated today.

The true facts about the killing of the 14-year-old Negro boy in Mississippi by Milam and Bryant came to light today in an article by William Bradford Huie, published in the new issue of Look Magazine. Both men were found not guilty of murdering Till by a Sumner, Mississippi jury last September.

Before shooting Till with a bullet from his .45 Colt automatic pistol, J. M. Milam was quoted as saying, "Chicago boy, I'm tired of 'em sending your kind down here to stir up trouble."

"G—dam you, I'm going to make an example of you. — just so everybody can know how me and my folks stand," the Look article reported.

Milam defended the killing with the statement, reported in the Look article, "We never were able to scare him. They had just killed him so full of that poison he was hopeless."

Milam and his half-brother Roy Bryant originally intended to "just whip Till and scare some sense into him," the statement said in

Look. They decided to kill him after the Negro youth kept insisting, "I'm not afraid of you. I'm as good as you are. I've had white women. My grandmother was a white woman."

THE FOLLOWING ACCOUNT of the Till killing was given in the Look article:

First, the two men beat the Negro boy, smashing him across the head with two .45 Colt pistols in Milam's tool house behind his home.

Then they drove the boy to the Tallahatchie River. At the river's edge, Milam asked Till, "You still as good as I am?" Till said, "Yeah."

Milam asked, "You've still 'had' white women?" Till said, "Yeah." Milam raised his .45 and shot the boy through his right ear.

He and his half-brother Roy then barb-wired a 74-pound gin fan, which Till had carried to the river's shore at their order, to

Free 72 Students In Segregation Protest

NEW ORLEANS—Seventy-two Negro basketball fans, most of them students of Dillard university, were acquitted of charges of disturbing the peace during a protest over segregation in a bus, a week ago.

The group, arrested after some of them removed a sign dividing white and Negro riders, was cautioned by Judge Andrew G. Buraco "Kindly refrain from doing the same tonight."

Fanny Carver, 17-year-old Dillard student was also freed of charges she incited the riot after the students boarded the bus, removed the sign and refused to replace on order of the white driver.

There was only one white passenger in the bus when the students entered. A New Orleans Public Service company ruling requires that the dividing sign remain in place if there is one white passenger and the Negroes must sit behind.

Negro Boycott Montgomery Bus Lines Effective

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(ANP)—A month-long boycott by Negroes of Montgomery City Lines buses, costing the company approximately $150,000 in loss of revenue, has resulted in the city commission authorizing an increase in fares.

Effective last Monday, adult fares were raised from 10 to 15 cents, and school children's fares from 5 to 8 cents. Transfers, previously free, are now 5 cents.

The new rates will be "subject to reconsideration" after the boycott ends, Mayor W. A. Gayle said. The bus line had petitioned the commission to double the fares temporarily.

Negroes have been boycotting the buses since Dec. 5, following the arrest of Mrs. Rosa Parks who refused to get up out of her seat for a white passenger. She was fined $14 for violating the state's segregation laws.

A committee of Negro citizens and city and bus officials have failed to agree on terms for ending the boycott, which is reportedly 80-90 percent effective.

Negro leaders have demanded more courtesy for drivers, unreserved seating arrangements and addition of Negro drivers on some bus runs.

The seating proposal has been the main point of the debate. BUS LINE OFFICIALS have maintained they operate under a city contract which requires them to obey city law requiring separate seats for Negroes and white passengers. In the meantime, various interpretation of the law have been made by city and Negro attorneys.

Approximately 65 percent of the passengers on Montgomery buses are Negroes during normal operation.

Since the boycott, eight lines in predominantly Negro sections have been discontinued.

Till's Boasting

the boy's neck and rolled him into 20 feet of water, the Look article said.

For three hours on the morning of the killing (Sunday, August 28), there was a fire in Till's back yard. "Bob's" crepe-soled shoes were hard to burn," the Look article said.

THE ARTICLE ALSO disclosed the following facts which led to Till's killing:

1) Young Emmett Till accused Roy Bryant's wife Carolyn inside the Bryant store at Money, Mississippi. His actions came after he had been challenged by a cousin to make good his boast that he had success with white girls in Chicago.

2) Till "squeezed Carolyn's hand and said, 'I love you' about a date, Baby?" when she handed him 2 cents' worth of bubble gum, the Look story said. As Carolyn ran to the back of the store, young Till jumped in front of her, perhaps caught her at the waist and said, "You needn't be afraid of me, Baby. I been with white girls before."

3) At this point, a cousin of Till ran in, grabbed him and pulled him out of the store. Outside Till being ushered off by his cousins, he executed the "wolf whistle" which gave the case its name.

Social Scene

BY RICHARD HENDERSON

We have just had the calm after the storm—a nice, socially quiet weekend (at least it was quiet for me; I would be most upset to discover that perfectly fabulous affairs had been going on all over town and that my popularity had so waned, I wasn't included in any of them).

It gave me some time to do some visiting and attending programs of the weekend, and gave me a chance to discover that Negroes are actually beginning to go places. At the Lucille Jones—Mildred Lind Stubbfield recital at the John Herron Art Museum on Friday night, there were quite a number, including a large group Mrs. Marion Burch had somehow coaxed along. (She hinted that she had used gesture tactics, but naturally I don't believe her!) I do hope those children weren't fooled into thinking they heard great singing, by any chance.

And on Sunday afternoon, visiting the balcony of the Murat for the first time in many years, I was pleased to discover there were many of our brethren up there as I had imagined from the number seen downstairs. They did, incidentally hear some passable singing and some topnotch orchestral playing.

As pointed out in an editorial this week (by the way, you should try reading our editorials. They're written by a talented, promising young man whose identity I shall not reveal), this is very good. Go to concerts, the art museum, sports exhibits, etc., as well as the social events; you'll find it time well spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary D. Jacobs played host to a meeting of the local chapter of Omega Psi Phi fraternity and its auxiliary, the Quettes, last Friday night, with Mesdames Andrew Ramsey and Thomas Sleet assisting Mrs. Jacobs. Bridge was played, with prizes won by Mrs. Merritt Pace, Joe Mason and Mrs. Virgil Christian.

As hinted some time ago in this column, Mrs. William Wilson was appointed chairman of the new teenage group. A delightful luncheon was served in the spacious rumpus-living room.

Quettes represent Mesdames Sedric Taliferne, Joe Mason, Lee Martin, Junius Bibbs, Bernard Brent, Gladys Donaldson, Augustus Hamilton, Mildred Crovis, Esther Keno, Nathaniel Scott, Willard Ransom, Charles Harry, Howard Clark, John W. Brooks, Marion E. Mayo, Jr., James Henry, David Lewis, Merritt L. Pace, Albertine Brown, Betty Crowe, LauWanna Payne, Clifford Wilson, A. D. Pinckney, Virgil Christian, Wilbur Payne, Fred Parker, William Wilson and Fred Hill.

The La Plus Exceptionelle Bridge and Literary club met at the home of Mrs. Laura Hughes last week, with Mrs. Mary Washington as special guest. Prizes were won by Mesdames Harriet V. Cheetam, John Watson and John Osborn, who will be hostess on January 21.

Saturday was also a big day for James "Jim Boy" Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose J. Smith, who was the totally surprised guest of honor at a birthday party at Flanner House, where approximately 30 little friends gathered to help celebrate.

Mrs. Arletta DuBino was in charge of games and music, with prizes being won by William Dunn, Gregory Gooch and Philista Brown. Two movies shown by Jim Fox kept the youngsters thoroughly rapt.

Assisting Mrs. Smith were Mesdames Mary Mosby, Elizabeth Lawrence, Harriette Snorden and Josephine Pinney and the Misses Charlotte Clark and Evajeanne Foley.

Guests included John and Stephanie Kimbrough, Deborah and Edward Lloyd, Phillista and Earl Brown, Jr., Richard and Stephen Ball, Brenda and Clarence Finney, Jr., Eunice Kimbrough, Sylvia and James Goode, Judy Russ, Teresa Mosby, Dwight Carter, Ronald Clark, Linda Lawrence, Charles and Deborah Smith, Philip Snorden, Judy and Philip Ransom, Gregory and Julian Gooch, William Dunn, Allen Starks, Jr., and Richard Whitfield, Jr.

"Jim Boy" was the recipient of many lovely gifts, and, as he put it to his parents, "It was sure a good party."

To get from a kiddies' party to a great honor bestowed upon a former resident is admittedly a big leap, so I just decided to leap and not try to get from one to the other gradually. Friends here rejoice at the appointment by Kentucky's Governor A. B. Chandler of Mrs. John Walls to the Kentucky state school board.

Mrs. Walls is, of course, well known here; the sister of Mrs. Cecil R. Powell, she is the former Miss Murray Atkins and taught school here for some time, until 1935, when she went to Louisville.

It is an equally great fall to realization of the death of Mrs. Lucetta L. Love. She died Wednesday at General Hospital, following a long, tragic illness. I, personally, find something rather reprehensible in smothering the dead with bouquets. It always seems sufficient to say—if it can be said truthfully—she was loved by those who really knew her.

At this writing I understand her brother, Clarence Lawson, is here from Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Love gave a lot more to this city than many people, knowing her only recently, could ever realize. Requiescat in pace.

Betty Taft's Letter

Dear Richard:

We hadn't planned to pen you a note this week, but ironically, it needs must be, since the passing of our beloved pastor, Rev. Judge I. Saunders, last Sunday evening. Our heart is truly saddened, and we do not have words to express our grief and heartfelt sympathy to his dear, devoted widow, Mrs. Louise Saunders, and his members and many friends who survive.

But in the event there is someone in this city of various communities who never chanced to meet or to know him, there are a few memories that we shall always have of him and we'd like to share them.

We adopted him as our pastor years before we became affiliated with his church as a member. We met him annually at the home of Mrs. Mary Rhodes Henry when he observed a birthday with a dinner party, along with Mrs. Saunders.

We found him to be the same each year, even though time intervened for a period of months, perhaps even until the next birthday dinner. His smile was always gracious, and his words well spoken and kind.

The late Mrs. Anna Mae Rhodes Strawberry daughter of Mrs. Henry, and I always delighted to indulge in religious talk without controversy, and Rev. Saunders was always able to enlighten us with truth and his own unbiased convictions.

When he learned that we were seriously interested in religion, metaphysics and other kindred subjects, he encouraged us and gave us many guide marks to reach the goal which we have in mind. It was his ambition to build a great Shiloh. Perhaps our dreams and ambitions take their toll after all, especially when we cannot fully put them into execution.

We shall always remember him as a good man, the kind recorded in the Bible in reference to Cornelius, devout, faithful and filled with the Holy Ghost, which is the keeping power.

We shall remember the lesson he taught us, that "The three truest words in the English

PTA Notes

The PTA of School No. 32 will meet next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, with "The Safest Route to School" as the discussion topic. Two films "Motor Mania" and "Chain Reaction" will be shown, and the speaker will be Albert E. Huber, vice-president of the Indianapolis traffic division of the Safety Council.

Mrs. H. L. Burton is program chairman, Mrs. Albert Umphrey is PTA president, and Charles A. Scudder is principal.

The PTA of School No. 56 will hold the last meeting of the semester next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Georgia Lewis, school librarian, will talk on "Recreation and Its Place in the Language Arts." Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Norman Oldham is president, and Mrs. Maude Flack is principal.

Mrs. Anna Belle Sprowell spent the holiday season in Tulsa, Okla., visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weathers, formerly of this city. She was royally entertained while there.

hand but what "Reverend" didn't have the right words to soothe a fretted brow, to heal a broken heart or to clear the clouds from a befuddled mind.

What do you say in closing to such a great man? We have lost a wonderful and true minister. Indianapolis has lost a good citizen, but God has gained a wonderful soul. We come into this life on a mission, and whether we ever find it depends largely upon ourselves, and sometimes upon our teachings. Rev. Saunders found his a long, long time ago. We've found ours. Have you found yours?

In the words of Job, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh, blessed be the name of the Lord." Well done, thou good and faithful servant.

And with tears of joy, Richard, that our pastor served us well, we can say "Farewell, 'til we meet again," for there is no death; nothing ever dies.

For now and always,
BETTY TAFT.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

"Death is the ending of a life-long test of sacrifice. Its just reward is rest." After many long years of hard labor in the cause of Christ, Rev. Judge I. Saunders, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, has gone to rest.

Only close friends, perhaps, know of his many sacrifices for the church. He was recognized by many for his honesty and Christian qualities as a minister and pastor. As one who has worked with him in various conventions, I voice the sentiment of many that Rev. Saunders was a very straightforward minister and a very peaceable and reliable person. You could bank on what he said.

He dressed like a minister, he walked like a minister, and he carried himself like a minister. Christ-like. He will be missed not only by the city, by Christians throughout the state and nation.

For more than 25 years the Saunders had lived at 2649 Northwestern avenue. Hundreds mourn with Mrs. Saunders in the passing of her husband.

When I hear of very fine, hard-working people having strokes, high blood pressure, etc., my mind wonders, if only these people would stop and take a little easier! But we know industrious people just cannot take it easy. They're just born that way. As the old saying goes, work never hurt anyone. But, my dear readers, a mass of people with so many different ideas can certainly worry you down.

According to radio announcements, Rev. William Edwards, pastor of Seventeenth Street Memorial Baptist Church, is very ill, but is trying to go in spite of doctor's orders. Mr. Edwards has a very hard time trying to explain to many that Rev. Edwards has been ordered by his physician to slow down. Let's help him get well by not asking too much of him.

At this point, I think the greetings sent our household from our pastor, Dr. F. Benjamin Davis, will be in very fine. "During this year live one day at a time; not only will the days last longer, you will 'take delight in the Lord, and He will give you the desire of your heart. Commit your way to the Lord; trust in Him, and He will act." Ps. 5:5.

A family reunion was held during the holidays by Mrs. Lettie Skaggs, 1638 Martindale avenue, with more than forty persons being served an elaborate dinner on New Year's Day. All were relatives.

By this time, I am sure many have seen the beautiful calendar put out by the King and King Funeral Home, with the picture of Mrs. Nettie Scott King, secretary-treasurer, and her brother, Paul R. Scott, director.

Mrs. King is proving herself a businesswoman after the passing of her very fine husband, Thomas E. J. King. Mr. Scott is given much praise for the fine way he has cooperated with his sister. They are doing a fine job.

Thanks to them for the calendar sent our office.

All members and friends of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League will meet Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, 1921 Columbia avenue, for installation of officers. The president,

Dorothy Harris, S. S. Teacher At Mt. Zion, Honored at Party

The beautiful dining room of Flanner House was scene of a surprise banquet on Wednesday of last week honoring Miss Dorothy M. Harris, teacher of the Julia Johnson Philaetha class of Mt. Zion Baptist Church Adult Sunday school.

Rev. R. T. Andrews, pastor of the church, and B. J. Jackson, general superintendent, joined with members of the Philaetha and Baraca classes in honoring Miss Harris for her ten years of teaching and Christian service.

She was praised for having been responsible for bringing cheer and the Word of God to inmates of the city jail, women's prison, Central State hospital and in other lines of Christian activity.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Fannie Bartlett, historian, and Mrs. J. Vivian Stewart who acted as her inspiring message presented Miss Harris with several gifts, among which was a leather-bound Bible concordance gift from the general Sunday school. The class presented her with an orchid and a purse.

Congratulatory letters were read from Mrs. Jackson and Miss Julia Johnson, first teacher of the class. Miss Harris is the second teacher since the organization of the class by Miss Johnson.

Testimonials were given, and pictures were made to commemorate the evening.

Mrs. Pearl Williams was chairman of the social committee.

Mrs. Ada Guise, Los Angeles, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Ackles, 1802 Yandes street.

Members of Eastern Star Baptist Church masonic society write they had a very successful year, having visited the Marion County Guardian Home and giving coal for the needy and baskets of fruits to shut-ins. The organization closed its year's work with a lovely dinner at the home of Mrs. Beulah Bridges, the president, which many friends attended.

The 22nd anniversary of the church's male chorus last Sunday went over big, with Rev. Andrew Williams as guest speaker.

This very busy church also announces that the senior choir, with Walter Taylor as president, will have "Eastern Star Day" Sunday, with all singing groups of the church participating in the program.

This will be fine time for friends to get their request numbers in and hear favorite numbers by persons of their choice. Mrs. Mary McTerry is reporter, and Rev. P. C. Owens is pastor.

Elder and Mrs. John Wagner and children, of Hampton, Va., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hackney, Sr.

Elder and Mrs. J. P. Winston and children have returned from a vacation with relatives and friends in New Jersey.

Conservatory personnel members participating will be Hershel Dorsey, Riley Gibson, William Kelly, Peter Ovelton, William Strawberry and Lawrence Strickland, Choraliers, and Mildred Johnson, Alice Overbey, Anna Overbey, Yvonne Taylor, Mildred Watson, Mary Ellen Williams and Delores Wilson, Choralettes.

Indiana Secretarial School Has Branches in Six States

The Speedwriting, Secretarial and Accounting Schools of Indiana, with home offices at 326 Insurance Building, 8 East Market street, is now in its 74th consecutive year of operation and has 15 schools in six states.

Through the use of electronic equipment and modern instructional methods, including speedwriting, the internationally famous method of shorthand as described on page 157 of the December issue of Reader's Digest, stenographic and book-keeping-clerk typist courses which formerly required eight to nine months to complete can now be completed in three or four months.

A secretarial or junior accounting course, which formerly required ten to twelve months to complete, can now be finished in from five to six months.

M. Anderson, general manager of the school, stated that the courses are designed and guaranteed to qualify students to fill responsible positions adequately upon completion.

He also stated there is a definite trend for mature people to return to school, as evidenced by the fact that approximately fifty percent of the enrollments range in the 30 to 50 years of age group. These mature people, he pointed out, are eagerly sought by employers, as they are not job hoppers and are able and willing to assume a great deal more responsibility than teenagers.

Both day and night school classes are offered, and students may enroll for complete courses or individual subjects.

WIFE RETURNS TOO LATE: Mrs. Margaret Wilson, wife of middle-aged Dr. Marion E. Wilson, born and reared in Indianapolis, returned to her home several hours after his body was discovered in their Baltimore, Md., home. She had left the home several days before the tragedy last Monday. Her sister, Rose, opens the door while her brother, Anthony Williams, a Baltimore police officer, holds an umbrella over her.

WHY? A crowd of stunned neighbors watch police and medical attendants remove the body of wealthy Dr. Marion E. Wilson, Indianapolis born and reared, from his home in Baltimore, Md., after he took his life last Monday. "He had everything to live for," they mourned. The body will be buried in Crown Hill Cemetery here Monday.

Woman Injured In Accident Dies

Mrs. Elora M. Owens, 69, 724 Blake, died in General hospital last Friday, Jan. 6, of injuries suffered Christmas Eve in an auto accident.

Funeral services were held at the Willis Mortuary Tuesday with burial in Crown Hill.

Mrs. Owens was struck by a car driven by Thomas E. Thompson, 47, 3112 E. Minnesota, as she was crossing the street near her home, in the 500 Block of Blake street.

A lifelong resident of this city, mayor of either party to be reelect-she attended Manual Training high school and was a lifelong member of Bethel AME Church, a member of the Bulletin club and the Mary Campbell Missionary Society.

Her husband, Lee W. Owens, survives.

scheduled to be held Friday, Jan. 13 at Grace Presbyterian Church, following which the body will be shipped to Indianapolis for burial in Crown Hill Cemetery there.

The body of Dr. Wilson will lie in state at the popular Willis Mortuary in Indianapolis from 10 a.m. Sunday, until time for burial and graveside services the following day at 1 p.m.

According to accounts gathered by reporters for the Baltimore Afro-American Dr. Wilson left home about 10 a.m., telling Mrs. Ferebee who was keeping house for him, that he was going to post a letter.

Friends have surmised the last letter he was ever to mail was addressed to his mother, but no verification of this or disclosure of its contents have been revealed.

Mrs. Ferebee said when the doctor returned he went downstairs to his club cellar and minutes later she heard a thud.

"I called down and asked him did something fall and he replied, 'No everything is all right.'"

He then went upstairs and turned the radio in his room up loud, she related.

"When the laundry man came about noon I went upstairs to get the soiled linen and saw the body, sprawled on the bed, blood streaming from the wound."

POLICE SAID a rope similar to that used for clotheslines was attached to pipes in the basement, leading to the belief that the noted surgeon had attempted to hang himself. They said they found a four-foot ladder near the furnace and under a two-inch pipe. The rope was tied securely to the pipes, and the ends were frayed and dangling and appeared to have been snapped.

NEWS of the tragedy sent tremors of shock around the city, for Dr. Wilson was highly regarded and greatly admired.

Intimates said he appeared depressed and despondent the several days previous, but he gave no indication that he planned any action so drastic and ultimate.

The unanimous lament of friends was "I can't believe it or understand it. He appeared to have everything to live for."

Dr. Wilson came here from Indianapolis in 1931, internship at Provident hospital where he later became a resident and until the last a staff surgeon.

He was credited with unusual talent, aptitude for his profession, a wide medical knowledge and a winning and dynamic personality. He was popular with the various better classes of the city.

Friends said in the course of his upward career, he amassed considerable wealth through his lucrative practice, evidences of which were ownership of several valuable pieces of property in the city, a palatial summer home at Deal, Md., a costly yacht on which he entertained friends lavishly.

At time of his death a 1956 Cadillac purchased only a month ago, stood in front of his home.

INFORMED of the tragedy, his wife, Margaret, returned quickly to take charge. She had been staying with friends in the city, it was reported.

Dr. Wilson was born in the house now occupied in Indianapolis by his mother. He attended Shortridge high school there, and later was graduated from Indiana University.

He is survived by, besides his mother, his sister, Mrs. Mary Alice Morton, Indianapolis, who accompanied the mother to Baltimore.

hospital, told the jury he felt he was "justified" in killing his sweetheart.

HE SAID he had been going steady with the popular singer for over eight months and had furnished an apartment in anticipation of marrying her.

"I loved her and she said she loved me," he stated from the witness stand. "She promised to marry me."

When Lola was ill, Shively claimed, he was almost constantly at her bedside, caring for her and serving her.

On Sunday, Feb. 6, Shively said, he went to the woman's apartment and she wouldn't answer the door. She wouldn't answer the phone either, he stated.

After several trips to the apartment, Shively stated, he finally got in by going through an adjoining apartment of a neighbor.

"She told me she didn't want me. She said we were through."

"I had nothing to live for."

Shively said he got his 32 caliber revolver from a cabinet in the woman's apartment and shot her. She was shot twice in the chest, one bullet lodging in her heart and the other passing completely through her body.

He sat there half an hour with the woman's body before deciding to shoot himself in the stomach, he said. He blacked out after wounding himself and called police after gaining consciousness two and one-half hours later.

WILBUR GRANT, deputy prosecutor, charged Shively never intended to commit suicide.

"He was playing for your sympathy," he told the jury. "He knew what he was doing. A hospital orderly, he knew when he placed the muzzle of that gun to his stomach and pulled the trigger that he wasn't in line to hit any vital organs," Mr. Grant contended.

Flo Garvin, well-known night club pianist and singer who was a close friend of the murdered woman, testified Shively and Lola had "dated" only two months before her death.

she did not move."

James spent 15 minutes piecing together a wild story before calling police and reporting his wife's death.

When officers arrived James told them he did not know how his wife came to be shot. He said he had come home and found her dead in the chair.

HE TRIED TO SHIFT SUSPICION of the crime onto several of his wife's friends, giving police their names and addresses.

Randolph Schubert and Jack Bevan, Homicide Det. Sgts., broke James' story and secured the confession after several hours of intense questioning at police headquarters.

The detective team returned to the James home and after a search failed to turn up the murder weapon there, the officers went into Mr. Riley's room where they found the gun in a holster, hidden beneath the contents of a dresser drawer.

Services for Mrs. James were to be held Saturday in Campbellsville, Ky., where she was born. King and King Funeral Home had charge of arrangements here.

istry as pastor of the King Solomon Baptist Church in Cincinnati and has been pastor of Shiloh Church here for 30 years.

Dynamic, forceful and an eloquent preacher, he swiftly attained a high position among Baptists in Indiana, and served for a number of years as moderator of the Indiana State Baptist Association.

He was for many years president of the Indianapolis Baptist Ministerial Alliance. He organized the Progressive Baptist Convention eight years ago to include leaders of many smaller churches who were not on equal footing with leaders of larger churches of the city and state and who were members of the older Baptist Conventions.

DR. SAUNDERS founded and directed the Indiana Baptist Seminary for church workers. He was a member of Charity Lodge No. 3 and several civic and political groups.

Many persons of various classes remember his willing helpfulness in times of need, services which he performed as a matter of religious and moral principle.

He authored a book, "Man Going To God For Freedom" which he dedicated to his wife, Mrs. Louise Saunders to whom he was married 42 years. The book was well received in informed circles.

Text of the funeral sermon, for which he had indicated a preference will be: "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the faith," 2 Timothy, 4th chapter.

His wife, an aunt, Mrs. Beatrice Bonney, Cleveland, Ohio, and an uncle, E. C. Reynolds, Cincinnati, survive. Burial, with the Willis Mortuary in charge of funeral services throughout, will be in Crown Hill.

Notices of meetings to be held at the Senate Avenue YMCA Thursday were circulated among the designated groups at the hospital earlier this week, it was learned.

City and county administration officials have been under a running fire from the Yankee Doodle Civic Foundation over the issue of increasing wages for more than a year.

Frank R. Beckwith, president and prominent attorney, has contended that wage scales for hospital employees below the professional and semi-professional levels have been inadequate to attract and keep competent help to the detriment of patients and the community.

DISMISS SUIT AGAINST SINGER BILLY DANIELS

LOS ANGELES—Suit for $75,000 damages against singer, Billy Daniels, was dismissed in Superior Court this week when Miss Patricia Hirsch, 25, who filed the suit, failed to appear.

The blonde show girl claimed Daniels beat and kicked her in his dressing room at the Mocambo night club Aug. 5, 1954.

Daniels denied the assault.

Ask ABC To Disapprove Opening Of New Tavern

More than 200 persons are expected to attend a hearing Tuesday before the Alcoholic Beverage Commission to urge overruling of the action of the Marion County Liquor Board in granting a beer-wine permit for operation of a tavern at 334 Blake.

The county board granted the application of Huron (Jigsaw) Head, 834 N. West at a hearing Monday over the heated protests of a group of 17 homeowners in the immediate vicinity.

Members of the group told the board members they feared repetition of the demoralizing influences that characterized the place when it was known for years as "Mon's Tavern."

They said drunks from the tavern were continually causing disturbances in the neighborhood, engaging in fights and using vile language. In addition they declared such an atmosphere unhealthy for decent neighbors to live in and unwholesome for the many children living with their parents nearby.

One objector pointed out that there are now four taverns, five whiskey stores and five other stores that sell beer and wine within a four-block radius.

Rev. James Robinson, 328 Blake, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, described the conduct of patrons under three former owners as "disgraceful."

FRANK R. BECKWITH, president of the Yankee Doodle Civic Foundation and spokesman for the group, charged that the board "had already made up your minds before we got here."

"If this petition was for a tavern at 4600 Broadway or 36th and Pennsylvania, we would not have to stand here and wrangle."

Three board members, Bairdon, Watson and Leo F. O'Connor voted in favor of the application and the board president, Charles C. Meischke against.

Application for a beer-wine permit was made by Head several months ago but was withdrawn before action could be taken by the board. The place has been attempted to rape her.

The girl said her father chased her 11-year-old brother out of the house when the lad came to her aid.

Mrs. Martin said her husband had tried to assault the child before and had threatened to kill her if she told police. The girl and the 11-year-old boy are Mrs. Martin's children by a previous marriage and came to Indianapolis from their former home in Mississippi last June.

When she asked Martin about his latest alleged attempt to rape the girl, the mother stated, he admitted it and told her to "shut up and go to bed."

Mrs. Martin said she went to another room and got her shotgun, a bolt-action, single-barrel type, and loaded it with three shells from her husband's hunting jacket. She gained her experience in handling guns by going hunting frequently with her husband.

As she returned to her bedroom, she claims, Martin turned over, facing the wall and she stepped to the side of the bed and shot him. She loaded another shell in the chamber of the gun and pulled the trigger a second time. The blasts tore away the back of Martin's head and his brains splattered over the pillow. He died instantly.

The woman laid the gun down and walked three blocks in the cold morning air in only her housecoat to the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Harris, 621 Patterson, and called police.

The 14-year-old daughter told The Recorder that her father had attempted to assault her several times but said the argument between her parents did not last all night as her mother claimed.

"They argued for about an hour that night," the girl stated. "I WAS FIXING BREAKFAST for the smaller children and getting ready to go to school when I heard the shots," he said. "My mother didn't say anything and my father didn't either. I think he was asleep."

Mrs. Martin said her husband wouldn't keep a job and at the time of his death was unemployed. She said he forced her two oldest children to steal coal from the General hospital furnace room, a short distance from the Martin home.

The Martins were extended aid by the Recorder Charities at Christmas time after Mrs. Martin wrote a letter asking such aid, Recorder records show.

NEIGHBORS OF THE MARTINS expressed shock and disbelief of the charges leveled against the young shooting victim. A woman who lived next door questioned the whole incident.

"And why would Mrs. Martin go three blocks to use a telephone in this instance when she used mine practically every day," the woman asked. The Recorder reporter.

Martin will be buried Saturday afternoon in New Crown cemetery following services in the Stuart Mortuary. A lifelong resident of Indianapolis he was a veteran of World War II.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

11 Days, 2 Murders; Ain't We Got Fun?

"The music goes 'round and 'round . . ." goes a popular song of a few years back. In Indianapolis we can change that to "The murder goes 'round and 'round . . ." and it may come out "me" next time." At the time of this writing, 1956 is 11 days old, but already there have been two murders—Negroes, of course. Negro life here is real cheap, you know, what with unconcerned police investigation, poor prosecution (if any), perfunctory law enforcement and feather-weight sentences combining to encourage anyone who has the urge to kill, if his intended victim is a Negro.

We have harped on this subject many times in the past and will continue until it's no longer necessary. It was because of our insistence largely that Phillip Bayt, while campaigning for the election he so decisively won, said positively that he was in favor of one possible solution. The Recorder suggested, that of having mixed detective teams. We have given our reasons for thinking mixed teams can do a better investigation job than all-white or all-Negro detectives can do. We think they're good ones, too.

We hope that Mayor Bayt has a good memory. We hope that he will lose no time in getting to work in tackling this problem of the cheapness of Negro life. The incomprehensible lethargy over the situation—a situation which last year had Negro killings providing 29 of the 32 committed—must give way to some real concern.

Statistics are admittedly unimpressive to many people, but the simple fact remains that a group which constitutes less than ten percent of the total population of this city last year was victimized to the extent that it provided almost ten times as many killings as all other groups combined.

In our opinion, racial discrimination is the direct cause of the whole thing. We object on that ground, for one thing. We demand attention, however, when it becomes apparent that no Negro's life is worth much in Indianapolis. As we sang in the first paragraph, it may come out "me" next time—or you!

No Jimcrow, No School Aid?

Representative Adam Clayton Powell (D., N. Y.) said last week he felt there were enough congressional votes to assure getting racial segregation restrictions into the federal school aid bill due for early House action. He was backed up by Indiana's Rep. Charles Halleck (R.), who said of the Powell amendment, "I would say at this time it would be voted in," although the Hoosier doubted it would pass the Senate.

Much hinges upon the treatment Rep. Powell's amendment receives. The Supreme Court has already declared itself on the segregation issue, accounting for the judicial department's condemnation of racial discrimination. The executive department, through President Eisenhower, has made its position clear. Only the legislative department, in some ways the most important from the integrationist's stand, remains aloof.

Not for the moment taking sides in the federal school aid issue, we most heartily approve Rep. Powell's amendment. No federal funds should ever be used to help pay for a jimcrow set-up. President Eisenhower emphasized that some time ago in disapproving the granting of governmental contracts to firms which practice discrimination.

The warning by several other House members that the amendment denying federal construction aid to areas with segregated schools could mean the end of school assistance hopes for the rest of this Congress, brings in a somewhat tragic note. Most desperately in need of federal aid—if it's ever granted—would be those very states which practice segregation.

Whatever action is taken concerning the Powell amendment will be a partial victory for one of the sides in the integration-segregation battle. We believe that, with the forces of right and wrong apparently evenly represented all over the country, it is impossible to make any sort of prediction concerning whose victory it will be. We can only wonder if race hatred is so strong that it can be a sole factor in depriving a large segment of the country of held it needs in educating its children.

Join the Crowd, Culture's for All!

In his quest for full equality, the American Negro has made tremendous strides in all directions. He is rapidly becoming financially secure; all things considered, his education is about par; politically he is a force which cannot be ignored (outside Indianapolis and the Deep South, that is!); in a highly mechanistic society, he is beginning to take his place as a contributing member.

Culturally, too, the Negro is beginning to come into his own, even in Indianapolis. Following a trend happily on the upward swing in America, the Negro is beginning to realize that great art, great music and great literature are not the exclusive property of the wealthy few. In Indianapolis we see constantly more Negroes at concerts, art exhibits and plays. It is possible that cost keeps many away from some affairs, but at the free concerts and other affairs the audience is becoming more and more two-toned.

This attending free affairs sponsored by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, the music schools, art museum and other groups is to be encouraged. Indianapolis is quietly becoming a place where fine entertainment can be found weekly, if one searches enough. The symphony concerts and art museum affairs, in particular, should be visited, as public funds help sustain them.

The Recorder feels a certain amount of responsibility in promoting the interest in fine art. For one thing, it was among the first Negro newspapers to acquire a full-time fine arts critic, a staff member now kept by practically every newspaper of any size. By bringing to public attention affairs of cultural consequence, by giving encouragement where merited, a "scolding" where needed, by taking an active role in the city's cultural life. The Recorder has, we feel, made an important contribution.

Our public must follow up. For example, two years ago when this paper's music critic ascertained then emphasized to our readers that Negroes were welcome in the Indiana State Symphony Society, we were greatly embarrassed to find no "takers." Still more should take advantage of the variety of entertainment offered here. They will find that far from being "long hair," great art is enjoyable, an uplifting experience, a welcome surcease from the ugliness associated with much of our daily existence.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

U. S. Losing World Leadership

As has been predicted in this space many times in the past, the United States is beginning to lose the world leadership which was so firmly in her grasp at the end of the Second World War.

The events happening at the close of the 1955 session of the General Assembly of the United Nations pointed out in bold relief two very important changes in the world situation: the transition from a cold war to a cold peace and the loss of prestige and effective leadership of the nations of the world by the United States.

The giving of membership to sixteen new nations will tip the voting balance in the General Assembly from a U. S. dominated coalition of so-called free nations, to a situation in which large groups of nations will play the United States against Russia.

As this change came about the U. S. found itself deserted by her former satellites, the Latin American states and Great Britain.

The sixteen nations package deal was not of the making nor choosing of the U. S. but was maneuvered by Krishna Menon, India's U. N. representative, and Messrs. Krushchev and Bulganin, who happened to be visiting India when the eighteen-nation deal of New Zealand and Brazil fell through.

NOT ONLY had the United States not initiated the deal, it had lost the leadership in the matter and merely went along to the funeral for the ride. But in losing the initiative in this matter the U. S. had set the stage for the end of the ten-year domination of the U. N. which it had enjoyed.

The steady loss of U. S. prestige had been hastened during this session by its aid to the support of the colonial policy of Portugal in Asia and by a dogged insistence that the nations of the world take a sort of international loyalty oath to the U. S. regardless of its position.

The U. S. support of Chiang Kai-Shek as the spokesman for the two Chinas lost for us the support of most of the Asian countries and Latin America and an estrangement with Great Britain, and so weakened China that our delegation will have to work hard to have him recognized even as the governor on Formosa in the next session of the U. N.

The present composition of the United Nations gives the Asian-African bloc the largest regional group of votes—twenty-three nations. This means that the non-white nations are going to be playing the U. S. against the USSR in future meetings of the world assembly.

IN ADDITION the Latin American nations, bolstered by the addition of Spain, Portugal and Italy to the language bloc are going to be very difficult to keep under the American wing.

Not only did the U. S. lose face in the voting in the new members it had already suffered a defeat in the matter of adding a new member to the eleven member Security Council when our delegation maneuvered to keep Yugoslavia out of the spot and give it to the Philippines.

We finally had to settle on a compromise whereby the two nations would alternate in the position.

The United States was not at all helped in the situations by events occurring in the United States while the U. N. was in session.

At the beginning of the debates on the membership of the Security Council and the voting in of new members, the world was appalled by the miscarriage of justice in the Till case and the silence of official American statesmen in the matter.

As the issues became hotter, the U. S. position was further weakened by undemocratic mouthings coming from the governor of the state of Georgia.

GOVERNOR GRIFFIN had asked his Board of Regents to cancel a football game with the University of Pittsburgh because there was a Negro on the Pittsburgh team.

And the governor of still another American state, Virginia, added fat to the fire by convening the state legislature to abolish public education in the state to circumvent the ruling of the Supreme Court that Negroes and whites attend the same schools.

The United States was adjudged on the basis of its position in regard to human rights as opposed to property rights, its attitude on race and color.

Americans may well object that other countries have as bad conditions in respect to one or more of these problems. But the fact is that, since the U. S. assumed the leadership of the world, everything that we do is subject to world scrutiny and comparison.

It is evident with the composition of the United Nations as it now stands and with the added possibility that Japan, Korea, Vietnam, the Gold Coast, and Morocco almost certain to be admitted in the next few years.

THE UNITED STATES with its present position on race, color and colonialism cannot hope to dominate the world government.

There are equally convincing reasons why the USSR will also be prevented from taking the leadership.

Leadership of the future United Nations will most certainly belong to those nations or group of nations most capable of exploiting the antagonisms between us and the Soviet Union, unless either the United States or Russia or both can bury their differences and implement their professions of belief in the sanctity of human rights.

The Chief-A Man Among Men

I am writing about Faburn Edward De Frantz, Senior, in part because he is a genuine humanitarian and a man of ability, integrity, sincerity and worthwhile attainment, and partly for whatever value, if any, this may have for young persons who may see it. One of the best known men of Indianapolis, he affectionately is referred to as THE CHIEF.

I recognize that often there is wisdom in hesitating to honor a living man or woman. Nevertheless, there are good reasons for showing appreciation directly to anyone who really should be appreciated.

Many times the amount of space available here would be required adequately to tell about THE CHIEF. Hence this article of necessity must be sketchy.

When he retired in 1951 there were many spoken and written words of high praise of the man and his conspicuous service to the city and state as well as to thousands of men and boys individually.

SPEAKING of De Frantz and his work, the Indianapolis Star said: "Such men are an asset to any community." The Star also credited him with leading a movement to stop discrimination in education and employment and with increasing the Senate Avenue Y's membership from 350 to 5,270.

The Indianapolis News doubted that any person here had equaled his character building record.

De Frantz got his sense of fairness and determination to be ready for whatever difficulty that stood in his way from his father, Alonzo D. De Frantz, a native of New Orleans, who induced 30,000 Negroes to go from the South to Kansas during 1878 and 1879.

Mr. De Frantz was born at Topeka, Kansas, where he got his elementary and secondary schooling. His higher learning was obtained at Washburn College (now Washburn University) and at the University of Kansas.

Also, he studied medicine for three years at Kansas Medical College before becoming a YMCA secretary.

LEONINE in appearance, bearing and manner, endowed with high mental power and a magnificent physique, with a heart as big as he is and with a moral and physical courage befitting his size, he commands attention and respect under any and all circumstances.

De Frantz was among the first colored men to play football on white teams, playing for Washburn and Kansas from 1906 to 1910.

In one game the opposing team threatened to "get him." Feeling that his light complexion would save him from unusually rough treatment, his coach persuaded him to wear a helmet.

He had got along unnoticed till the contest was nearly over and he lost his helmet. Thus being recognized, one of the opponents yelled:

"There's the damned nigger."

Straightening his 200 pound six-foot-two self to its full stature and gleefully welcoming a chance for a knock-down-and-drag-out struggle, De Frantz challenged: "Yes, I am here and I'm ready for you." In a similar way he has met all obstacles all his life.

HIS MOTHER DIED when he was eleven years old and his father died three years later. The 13 children, of whom THE CHIEF was the seventh, being orphaned, had to fend for themselves when most of them were very young.

De Frantz holds his parents in mind with reverential respect, his mother having been an exceptional woman of high ethical ideals and practices and a devoted wife and mother, while his father was a man among men and a born leader able to bind men to him in brotherly loyalty.

THE CHIEF's wife, often referred to as THE LITTLE CHIEF, is a remarkable woman not only as regards beauty, intelligence and an exceptional gentility but as a wife and mother as well.

De Frantz freely acknowledges her constant, sustaining helpfulness to him and their two boys, one of whom, F. E. Jr., is an industrial chemist at the Glidden Company here while Robert D. is with the Marion County Welfare Department. It is a happy, successful family.

CURRENTLY De Frantz is working on his memoirs, which he has dedicated to his grandchildren.

Also he spends time at his Mutual of Omaha Agency, which he established to open a field of opportunity for others.

Bertram E. Gardner dedicated his master's thesis on the Senate Avenue Y to De Frantz in the following words:

"To F. E. De Frantz, Sr., who more than any other person inspired this study. His firm convictions and unyielding principles captured the imagination of thousands. Many, reflecting his influence, have gone forward to outstanding accomplishments. The writer offers this work as a sort of testimony to the spirit of the man who dreamed, demanded and developed an Association philosophy which has profoundly affected the total Movement."

or no restraint on the spirit of creative adventure. High on the scroll of achievement in our land are the names of men and women of every national origin or racial background. Among these there was in Dixieland, a creator and contributor to significant benefits of all humanity—a slave-born frail black orphan boy.

His most notable characteristic was a deep humility. He was cited by the Royal Academy of Science of England, for Encouragement of Arts, Manufacturing and Commerce of Great Britain.

An English scientist is reported as saying the practical processes and discoveries in agricultural chemistry of Dr. Carver, if placed in use over the world, would make as much wealth as the automobile, electric age or any modern invention of parallel significance. Dr. Carver proposed that his processes be used to benefit humanity rather than make profits.

Dr. Carver belonged to a nation and an age. His great desire was to make life more agreeable for all the people of the Southland and the nation. The "prophet of plenty" observed that "the southern people if they had the vision could control the markets of the world." He was contributions in agricultural chemistry to make the outlook a likely reality.

Surely this slave-born frail black orphan boy possessed the spirit or feeling and understanding of individual human dignity. He finally came to walk and commune in spirit and fact with lords and princely heirs of the land, or many great nations.

—Thomas Gray

George Washington Carver, the nation's first "prophet of plenty," was born in the disastrous period near the end of the Civil War. The frail slave-born black orphan boy was not ushered into surroundings where high planes of arts, sciences and machine-age inventions might inspire dreams or spirit of noble adventure.

In an unheralded field of adventure and with an unaccountable urge out of no place—a frail slave-born orphan boy pursuing the magic of dreams wrought unparalleled wonders with simple findings in the realm nature.

He realized unparalleled objectives in noble adventure through the spirit of self-reliance, self-denial, vigilance and unceasing determination. All characteristics sustained in the spirit or feeling and understanding of consequences of individual human dignity. Millions of people in our land have lived the courses of normal lives under the eclipse of futility and frustration—yet with many, many more facilities and chances for noble adventure around them than the frail slave-born orphan boy, Carver.

Yesterday as it were our surroundings have awaited pioneers in a hundred fields of science and industrial arts. Our way of life imposes little

Ex-Tigers Make College Varsities As Freshmen

BULLDOG: Sheddric Mitchell, center with the state champion Tigers last season, is pivotman on the varsity at Butler University. He alternates as starter with veteran Hank Foster and in the tougher games he usually plays more than Foster. His ruggedness under the boards and his great rebounding strength is a definite asset to the Bulldog game.

GREYHOUND: Bill Hampton, who teamed with Bill Scott at guard last year and helped Attucks to the state championship, went to the varsity at Indiana Central in his first year. In recent games, Hampton, labeled the team's "best defensive man" by Coach Angus Nicholson, has been starting. The Greyhounds have won 13 and lost one.

ASKS ARCHIE TO FIGHT YOUNG FLOYD PATTERSON

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—A bout between Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson would be an ideal fight to determine the next opponent for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, Al Weill, Rocky's manager, said here last week.

Weill told newsmen here that Marciano will defend his heavyweight title in June or September, and possibly in both months. He listed New York, Chicago and Los Angeles as possible sites for such a bout or bouts.

Weill made the statements as he met with Marciano to discuss 1956 business affairs.

He also revealed that filming of movies starring Rocky and himself are in the preliminary stages. One picture is to feature the life of Marciano, while another will center on Weill, as his energetic little manager.

"You can say that we will co-star for each other," Weill joked.

Lincoln Lions Best Reitz Panthers by 12

EVANSVILLE — Art Taylor's Lincoln Lions, suffering their only losses of the campaign at the hands of city foes, pounced on the Reitz Panthers Friday night of last week and didn't get up until they had defeated this city opponent 61-49.

The win gave the Lions an 8-2 won-and-lost record going into the second half of the season.

CONTROLLING THE BACKBOARDS and capitalizing on Panthers' miscues and personals, Taylor's pack eased to a close 17-15 first period score and stretched it to 31-23 by halftime.

The Lions held a 10-point lead, 46-36, going into the final stanza and Reitz closed this gap to six once in the final period.

However, the Taylormen were cool in the clutch and were able to draw and make good free throws at important points in the Reitz bid.

CARVEY JONES, outstanding guard who led the Lions to the first quarter lead, was high point man for both teams with 19. Ted Lander, high-scoring forward, registered 16, and Walter Miles, freshman center, centered for 15 points.

The Lions lost to both Central and Memorial in earlier tilts. They were especially glad to get Reitz, however, as the Panthers were the ones who broke the Lions' winning string at 21 last season and eliminated them from state tournament competition in the sectionals.

THE ROARING LIONS OF LINCOLN: The Lions of Evansville's Lincoln high school who won 21 straight and went undefeated before losing in the sectionals last season, are back in business and are roaring along with an 8-2 won-and-lost record so far this campaign. The Lions shot their way to the championship in the local Secina Memorial tournament recently and blitzed Evansville Reitz 61-49 last week. Art Taylor (rear, right) is the

By JIM CUMMINGS

LAFAYETTE—The Panthers of Gary Roosevelt corralled the Bronchos of Lafayette Jeff for the first half here last Saturday night but the big Bronchos busted down the fences in the third period and romped home with a 78-61 victory.

Playing smooth, give-and-go ball with veteran Arthester McCruston darting through for lay-ups, Roosevelt, who was runner-up for the state championship last March, moved to a 19-14 first period lead.

Cooling it and sticking to their game in the second period, the Panthers appeared to have the thing locked up as they went on to a 41-32 half time lead.

But the corral fence must have been made out of tooth picks as the snorting Bronchos trampled it down with 29 points in the third canto and hit Roosevelt to a mere two points that period.

Lafayette came from nine points behind into the lead in less than three minutes of the third with forward Ronnie Fisher setting the pace with four baskets, two in the first 30 seconds.

THE GAME WAS EXTREME-

LY ROUGH throughout the first half, Roosevelt apparently had heard of the Bronchos' rough play and had arrived determined to give no quarter under the boards.

This attitude took its toll as three of their starters fouled out of the game in the third. Both forwards, Jerome Morgan and Maurice Everett, and guard Johnny Ford went to the bench under the weight of personals.

RANDOLPH WILLIAMS, their center and best rebounder, joined them near the start of the fourth. Fisher, who ignited the spark which set the Broncho to kicking, hauled out with six minutes to go in the third and three other Jeff players had four mauls apiece when the gun sounded. A total of 52 fouls were called 29 on Roosevelt.

Except for the big third quarter, Roosevelt outplayed Jeff, outscoring them in each of the other

Attucks Meets Mich. City, Shortridge

At Tech Gym Sat., Fieldhouse Tues.

By JIM CUMMINGS

The state champion Crispus Attucks Tigers, who didn't even stub a toe as they marched easily to their 11th-straight win of the season by downing South Bend Adams 88-51 last Saturday, might find Michigan City a bit harder to clear from the Tiger trail to an undefeated season.

Attucks and Michigan City meet in the Tech Gym at 8 p.m. Saturday night in a tilt that promises to be a real humdinger. The reserve teams of the two schools will battle in the curtain raiser, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The Tigers play Shortridge's Blue Devils Tuesday night in Butler Fieldhouse. This is another "must" for real Hoosier basketball fans who crave the thrills.

Ray Crowe's boys had a hard time of it before coming off with a 52-45 decision over the Satans in the semi-final round of the City Tournament.

The Attucks-Shortridge game should feature another personal duel between Oscar Robertson and Shortridge's brilliant Herschell Turner running neck and neck in the city scoring race.

This Michigan City outfit, which is practically the same as the entry which chalked up a 20-6 won-lost record, figures to be plenty rough. So far this time out, they have won eight while dropping three.

Included in the win column are Froebel of Gary (conqueror of Roosevelt), South Bend Adams, Terre Haute Germeyer and Muncie Burris.

THREE STARTERS BACK from last year are Dick White, Larry Robinett and Paul Michaels. The Recorder gauge says the Tigers are about 18 points better than Michigan City but the Tigers will have to put on one of their better performances to realize this difference.

Ray Crowe and his troupe traveled to the northern city last year and spanked Michigan City 88-69. The fellows who were with him on the trip up North last year probably remember all those bad things the Michigan City Coach said about the Tigers. And the state champs just might blitz the visitors out of the gym in no time.

Tigers Trounce S. Bend Adams

SOUTH BEND ADAMS isn't in the same league with Attucks but they came down here last week determined to stand up like men and fight like the very devil. And they did.

No scrappier team has stood on the line against The Tigers so far in the campaign. And this writer hasn't seen a cleaner game played anywhere, and time. Only 15 fouls were called in the entire game, eight on Attucks and seven on Adams.

THE TIGERS JUMPED to an 18-9 first period lead on the strength of brilliant rebounding and shooting by Billy Brown and incomparable Oscar Robertson. Brown dunked four buckets and Oscar fired in three. Sam Milton, continuing the fine brand of play he exhibited in the final game of the city tourney against Tech, dropped in two buckets on beautiful drive-ins.

Six players divided 20 points in the second quarter as Attucks moved to a 38-24 reading. Brown put in two more and Milton duplicated this as Henry Robertson, Oscar's dead-eye brother, potted two from the corner. Odell Donel, substitute center, broke in with two buckets and forward James Enoch got a basket along with Oscar.

Attucks increased its output in the third as Edgar Searcy hit for six points and Stanford Patton, Lavern Benson and Albert Maxey all broke into the scoring column. The score was 61-35 at the end of three.

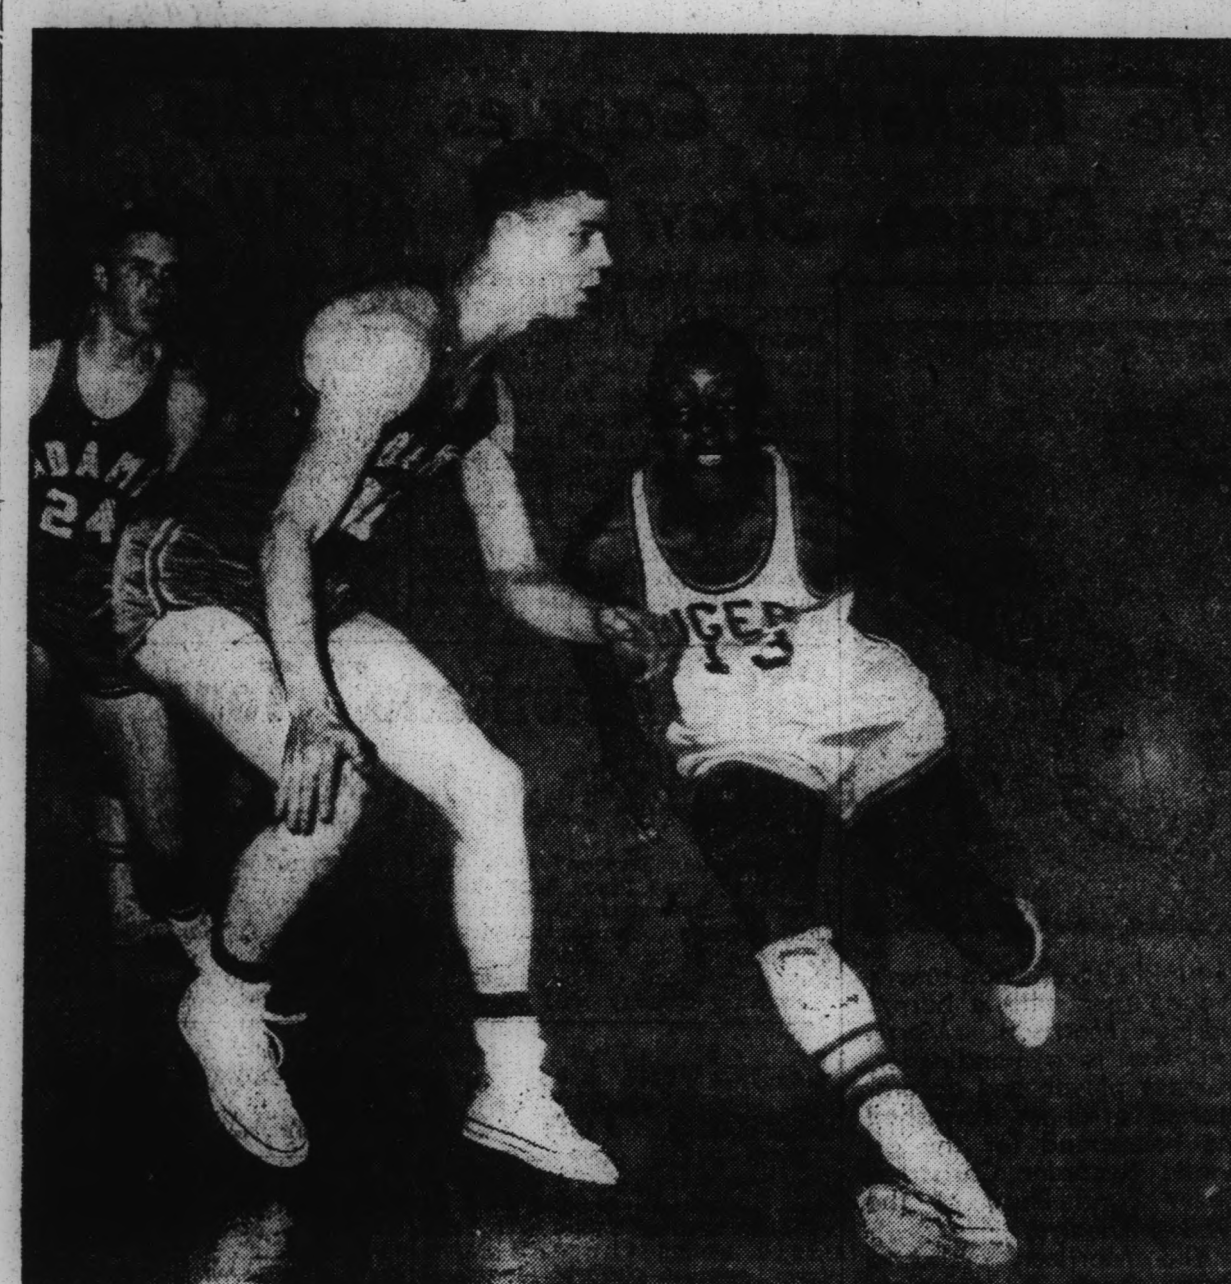

Patton, who turned his ankle in the city tournament semi-finals and was used sparingly in the title game, limped a little as he came into the game against Adams late in the third period, but no one noticed it for long. Patton hit seven field goals in the final period and ended with 16 points for the game.

OSCAR WAS HIGH POINT MAN with 18 and Brown equaled Patton's total of 16. Maxey, who got three fielders in the last quarter, and Milton both had eight while Henry Robertson and Searcy got six apiece. Donel with four and Enoch, John Gipson and Benson, with two apiece, rounded out the scoring. Guard Fred Bradley was the only Tiger of the even dozen who got into the game, who failed to score.

Benson, a 5-5 guard, moved up to the varsity last week after Don Brown left the team.

WALTER DUKES DOES WELL AS RAY FELIX FALTERS

PHILADELPHIA (ANP)—Walter Dukes came through with flying colors for the New York Knickerbockers in their game with the Philadelphia Warriors here last Saturday, but Ray Felix was somewhat of a disappointment. The Warriors won the basketball game, 104-97.

THE FAST, LITTLE MAN CROWE NEEDS? Is Lavern Benson, shown here dribbling past a couple South Bend Adams players, the fast, little man Attucks Coach Ray Crowe throughout the season has said he needed? Only 5-6, Benson, is plenty fast and is a clever ball handler. The little sophomore was moved up from the reserve team last week and was impressive in the Adams game last Saturday as the Tigers scored their 11th straight victory of the season.

B. Robertson Gets 35

RICHMOND—Bailey Robertson, the shootin'est shooter who ever bounced a basketball for Indiana Central, scored 35 points to lead the Greyhounds to a 76-72 win over the Earlham Quakers in a real thriller last Saturday night. Robertson's total came to 13 fielders and nine free throws. Beaten only once in 14 games, to pull this one. The Greyhounds themselves as much as 12 points Central had to come from behind in the first half.

Luther Rawlings, Cut Over Eye, Is TKO'd

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (ANP)—A cut over the right eye caused the referee to halt a bout between Luther Rawlings, veteran Chicago welterweight, and Jimmy Beecham, up-and-coming Miami boxer, and to award the decision on a TKO to Beecham last week. The bout, held in the Miami Beach Auditorium here, had been scheduled for 10 rounds.

RAWLINGS SUFFERED THE CUT in the eighth round, following a flurry of infighting. Later he said Beecham accidentally butted him. However, Jimmy said he thought a right hand punch did the damage.

Spurrer Edges Landy In 800-Meter Race

MELBOURNE, Australia (ANP)—Lunging forward with a terrific kick just before hitting the tape, Lon Spurrer of Delano, Calif., nosed out John Landy of Australia in the 800-yard race at Olympic park here last week.

In winning, Spurrer, holder of the world 800 record of 1:47.5, pushed Landy to his fastest time at the distance. Both were timed at 1:51.8, 0.43 seconds short of Lon's record.

So close was the finish, that it took the officials some time to decide that Spurrer had officially won by inches.

Landy is holder of the world record for the mile. He set the mark in 3:58 flat at Turku, Finland, in 1954.

periods, 19-14, 22-18 and 18-17. Roosevelt isn't nearly the team that swept into the finals last year, but Coach John D. Smith is working hard to produce a real contender.

Attucks Grapplers Throw One

By ROBERT GRIDER

Joe Reeves, wrestling in the 175-pound class, pinned John Rachman at 2:55 of the third round to give the Crispus Attucks Tigers a 28-20 decision over the West Lafayette Red Devils Monday in the Attucks Gym.

Oscar Davenport of Attucks won the first match but the Red Devils moved to a 10-3 lead with Harley Allen pinning the Tigers' Jesse Allen at 58 seconds of the first round and five point penalty levied against Attucks for failure to have a competitor in the 114-pound class.

The Tigers, coached by Junius Bibbs, won seven out of the next

Armstrong Back, Reports Europe Likes Jazz, Etc.

NEW YORK (ANP) — Louis Armstrong arrived here this week by air from Frankfurt, Germany, where he wound up a three-month tour of Europe, and told reporters that the Dixieland beat had captivated audiences from Norway to Spain.

Armstrong still believes he can do lots toward thawing out the cold war by blowing some hot licks for the Russians. "I'd still like to blow for those cats in Russia," he said, before leaving Frankfurt. "I'd go in a minute if I could. My trumpet don't know nothing about politics. And I wouldn't do anything there in Russia but blow my horn for those kids."

"Why, would you believe me, Russians came by the hundreds over from East Berlin to West Berlin to hear me play. They would come and say, 'We want to hear our Louis.'"

Last November, when the Big Four foreign ministers were meeting in Geneva, Armstrong—who is not exactly a foreign minister—offered to solve the cold war with his horn-blowing.

The U. S. Government is said to be considering favorably proposals that American jazz and popular musicians be sent to Russia as part of a cultural exchange.

The Russians have made no official statements on the subject, although one news service reported that Russian "cats" have gone jazz happy lately.

Armstrong, whose tour took him to Italy, Sweden, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, France and Germany, commented on European jazz fans: "They're all just like New Orleans; the fans came in like they were coming to a football game—relaxed at all times. We enjoyed playing for them. They're just like a bunch of kids. They know what you're doing all the time. They're all up on their jazz."

He said that European jazz musicians "play about the same" as Americans. But he had little praise for American bebop.

"Them boppers can't play real music. Anyone saying they like that stuff is just kidding himself. They're inferior musicians."

The Whole town is talking about the forthcoming appearance of Little Richard, creator of "Tutti Frutti," that famous recording which is currently taking the country by storm, who'll play a dance engagement at the Walker Casino on Sunday nite, February 12.

The popular young "baby-face" recording artist will appear here in person before an anticipated capacity crowd, which is expected to be on hand to give him one of the biggest ovations of all times. Featured with this great show will be two great singing groups—The Locketts and the Capries, plus that nationally known Duke Hampton and his famous dance band. All in all the dance and show promise to be one of the most entertaining musical packages seen in many moons.

Advance tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood. For table reservations — call ME. 4-5663.

Leontyne Price, Gloria Lockerman Among "Ten Young Women of Year"

NEW YORK (ANP) — Soprano Leontyne Price and Gloria Lockerman, 12-year-old spelling whiz of "S64-900 question" fame, have been named among the 1955 Merit Award winners given by Mademoiselle magazine.

For the 13th consecutive year awards were presented to young women who with one exception—range in age from teens to early 30's and "who have already distinguished themselves in their fields and are expected to achieve even greater honors."

In making the award to Gloria, the exception, Mrs. Betsy Talbot Blackwell, Mademoiselle's editor-in-chief, cited her as a "symbol for the kind of ordinary citizen who, catapulted into prominence by some accident of democracy, turns out to have qualities in which the nation can see itself reflected."

Miss Price, of Laurel, Miss., started out playing the piano at parties and funerals, after college won a scholarship at Juilliard and went on to rousing success in the revival of "Porgy and Bess."

She made opera history in the televised production of "Tosca" and now, after a year of sellout concerts, she will again star this month in the TV production of "The Magic Flute."

Other winners are: Kim Stanley, actress; Jane Prizant, lawyer; Doris Zeller, geologist; Pat McCormie, diver; Liano Brauch Russell, geneticist; Machiko Kyo, Japanese actress; Joanne Carr, designer and Francois Sagat, French writer.

HARRY RALLIED AFTER HANDY RALLIED AFTER SERIOUS OPERATION
NEW YORK (ANP) — W. C. Handy, 82-year-old composer, was reported in "fair condition" Wednesday at Sydenham hospital, where he underwent an operation the previous Saturday for an intestinal obstruction. The creator of the immortal "St. Louis Blues," however, was said to be still on the critical list.

SEEIN' STARS

By DOLORES CALVIN

NEW YORK (CNS)—EARTHA KITT BOWS OUT OF "JAZZ GETAWAY" . . . Eartha Kitt is such an independent gal that she takes no foolishness from Broadway. Eartha had rearranged her schedule to take in the musical "Jazz Getaway" for an early Broadway showing. But those associated with it couldn't get a theater on the gay white way so that rehearsals were postponed. Miss Kitt had calls to go to England and she just reshuffled her schedule and took off. Now the musical has been "postponed indefinitely."

The children didn't join the Joe Louises after all. Marva Louis Spaulding rethought about it all and decided that sending Jackie and Jacqueline along with their younger sister was just too much of an "imposition" on the newly wedded Rose Morgan and Joe Louis. This way the new couple will honeymoon through Detroit and on to Chicago where they will visit Joe's family first and the children of his former marriage second.

The first week of marriage was divine reported the Louises. They seem really "nuts" about each other and the cooing that goes on is enough to run out their closest friends.

An ex-flame of Thelma Carpenter marrying while she's still the bachelor girl . . . Louis Armstrong got back to the states on New Year's Day then took off for Hollywood where Satch does a movie. There will be some touring here for the crew before it's Europe bound again in April.

CBS TELEVISION HIRES FIRST NEGRO STAGE MANAGER IN N. Y.

NEW YORK (ANP)—CBS Television has hired Roy Allen, former advertising layout man on the New York Amsterdam News, as a television stage manager for "The Morning Show." This is in line with CBS' policy to employ people with the necessary qualifications and background in all jobs without regard to race or religion.

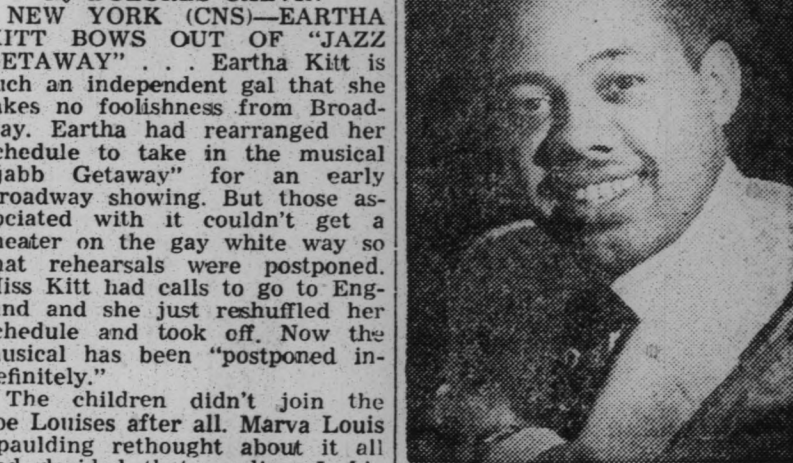

Born in Cambridge, Mass., Roy Allen was an actor on the legitimate stage since 1942. He played in John Wildberg's production of "Anna Lucasta" from 1945-48 and at one time was stage manager of the second company. He had acting experience in over 20 shows. Besides that he worked in pictures with Columbia and the U. S. Signal Corps.

Allen also did work as an actor, announcer and director in radio. He was an announcer on Station WMBX in Boston for three years. In television he acted on the major networks and was stage manager on a closed circuit.

His background includes study at the School of Radio Technique, Emerson College in Boston, the Massachusetts School of Art, the Betty Cashman School for Speech and Drama, South End Music School and Rindgo Tech in Cambridge, Mass., for Journalism.

Allen is a senior member of Actor's Equity, 35 years old, married and has two children.

SHOWN ABOVE IS LEO LESSER JR. president of the Performers Advisory League and winner of the groups "appreciation plaque" for the year 1955. This award is made each year for outstanding promotional research in the field of entertainment. Other winners of the award were H. K. Merriweather and Dave Clark, columnist and promotional man.

The plaque will be presented to Mr. Lesser at the organizations board of directors meeting to be held this month at Los Angeles, California.

Louis Armstrong, Hildegard On "Woolworth Hour"

CBS Radio Sunday, January 15

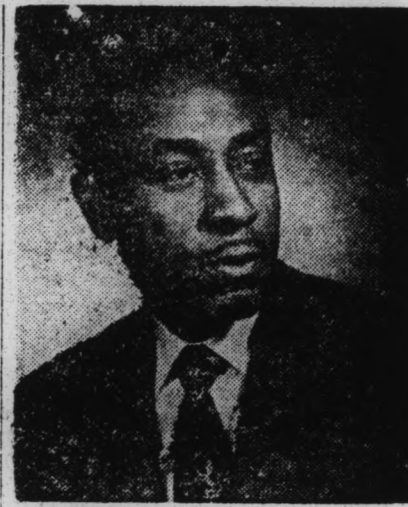

LITTLE RICHARD, creator of that famous recording "Tutti Frutti," will appear in person at the Walker Casino on Sunday night, February 12. Don't fail to see and hear this great super-attraction. Tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood.

Louis Armstrong, jazz trumpet great who recently completed a much-discussed tour of Europe; Hildegard, fresh from night club triumphs; Beverly Sills, soprano of the New York City Opera; and Russell Arms, radio and television tenor, will demonstrate "What's New in Music" on CBS Radio's "The Woolworth Hour" Sunday, Jan. 15, at 1:00-2:00 P.M. EST. Hildegard will present two of her favorite songs, "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and, for the first time on radio, "The Great Adventure."

Louis Armstrong, making his first radio network broadcast since his recent triumphant tour of Europe, will play with Percy Faith and his orchestra the "Back-o-Town Blues" and "Some Day You'll Be Sorry."

Beverly Sills will sing an aria from one of her favorite operas, "A. Fors e Lui" from Verdi's "La Traviata."

Russell Arms will sing "Me-thinks" and "They Didn't Believe Me."

ROBERT McFERRIN, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, gave his first Town Hall recital for New York audiences. Carroll Hollister assisted him at the piano.

During the past two years the artist's concert tours have taken him to major series from coast to coast as well as to Canada and the Caribbean.

The first member of his race to be engaged by the Metropolitan for leading roles on a repertory basis, the star will be heard in the title roles of "Rigoletto" and as Valentin in "Faust." McFerrin has already been heard and admired for his role as Amonasro, father of "Aida," and in Bizet's "Pearl Fishers" at the Lewisohn Stadium. (Associated Negro Press Photo)

'PORGY AND BESS' WELCOMED TO MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Jan. 9—The traveling "Porgy and Bess" theatrical group of eight-four members were welcomed by a crowd of flower-bearing Russian actors and actresses when they arrived here recently. More than 40 fur-coated Russian performers greeted the Americans at the station with flowers wrapped in brown paper to keep them from freezing.

The U. S. troupe arrived in the Soviet capital aboard a special train after a triumphant 10-day performance in Leningrad.

TO DROP PAMPHLETS OVER MISSISSIPPI

CHICAGO—An enterprising disc jockey by the name of Al Benson, stated a few days back, that he will conduct a pamphlet air raid over Mississippi on Lincoln's birthday, dropping thousands of copies of the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

'PORGY' THRILLS RUSSIANS: Members of the troupe which recently gave the Soviet premiere of the American folk opera, "Porgy and Bess," are shown on their arrival at Leningrad railway station.

Science Association No Longer To Meet Under Jimcrow Bars

ATLANTA, Ga.—The American Association for the Advancement of Science, the country's largest affiliation of scientific societies, last week took an initial step against holding any more meetings under conditions of racial or other segregation.

A resolution was adopted to take a mail ballot of the association's council which represents 260 scientific societies with almost 2,000,000 members. This move was made because only 85 of the 328 Council members attended the 122nd meeting of the association. The resolution is expected to pass.

The council will be asked to approve a statement that the annual meeting of the association be held under conditions that do not put barriers between scientists at formal and informal sessions because of race or creed.

The resolution came as a result of the meeting in this city where restaurants, hotels and taxicabs are segregated. Many prominent Negro scientists decided to boycott the meeting. Others attended to fight for adoption of the resolution and to break several segregation barriers.

NEGRO SCIENTISTS did attend official luncheons in local hotels, receptions in Municipal Auditorium and meetings throughout the city without incident.

However, problems of travel arose when white scientists attended sessions at Atlanta University. Several reported that white taxi drivers had pleaded ignorance of the location and Negro and white scientists had to ride separately to meetings. Private luncheons of Negro and white scientists in public restaurants were impossible.

The association also went on record as favoring amendment to the McCarran-Walter Immigration act, which would permit easier access to the United States of foreign scientists.

Willis Dyer's Combo From George's Rocks Xmas Show At Walker Theater

Trapp Family Singers Complete Town Hall Concert Series

NEW YORK (ANP)—What is perhaps one of the world's most unique musical organizations—the Trapp Family Singers—appeared last week in Town Hall in the last of three concerts featuring 16th and 17th century religious works, instrumental music for the recorder (an ancient flute) and folk songs of various nations.

Arriving here after appearances in places as remote as Australia, the group managed to give local musical lovers its customary Christmas concert.

The ensemble consists of 11 singers, which, nearly two decades ago, were refugees from Nazi persecution in Austria.

Princeton Masons Elect 1956 Officers

PRINCETON—G. L. Crowe, widely-known Masonic Lodge leader, was elected worshipful master of Princeton Lodge No. 28, F. and A. M., at a recent meeting.

Also elected were Herschel Trice, senior warden; Jeroyd Powell, junior warden; J. K. Clift, treasurer; Therman Hardman, secretary; McCoy Priestly, three-year trustee; Melton Pamplin, one-year trustee and senior deacon; Herman E. Thomas, junior deacon; Richard Madison, senior steward; Robert Alvis, junior steward; W. M. A. Powell, chaplain; Noble Parks, marshal, and Harold Noleox, tyler. The district deputy grand master, John W. Lagrone, presided over the election and installed officers for the year.

Critics around the nation have picked Willis Dyer's sensational combo as the most promising aggregation to appear on the entertainment scene during the year of 1955. Dyer who excels on the Hammond organ is also a pianist of note. The group has appeared at the Tropic Club, the Cotton Club, Capitol Hotel, Walker Casino, Hoover Building and several of the country's top night spots.

The combo features such outstanding artists as Dave "Big Sound" Mitchell, tenor saxophone; Harold Gooch, bass; Benny Barth, drummer and Dyer doubling on piano and Hammond organ. Willis and his versatile entourage literally rocked the rafters recently at the big Recorder Christmas Cheer Show held at the Walker Theatre.

The Dyer combo booked into the Orchid Room for an engagement of only two weeks has held down the bandstand at the niter for the last six weeks. Several disc firms are seeking the services of the Dyer combo.

Cab Calloway To Headline Sans Souci "Back-To-Back"

MIAMI (ANP)—Within a one-month period, the fabulous Cab Calloway will headline night clubs bearing the same name but located in two different countries when he plays the Sans Souci in Miami Beach (Jan. 17-27) and then the Sans Souci in Havana, Cuba (Jan. 31-Feb. 13).

Calloway who is currently holding sway at the Dunnes in Las Vegas is a big favorite in Havana, having made a number of television appearances there in conjunction with his theatre engagement on the island this past June. Havana is currently undergoing a big night club boom with the aid of the government, which is trying to increase the tourist trade and give Miami Beach a run for its vacation dollars.

The Cab joins the Havana "big name" policy in company with Maurice Chevalier, Nat "King" Cole, Billy Daniels, Denise Darcel and Edith Piaf.

ROYAL—In loving memory of LUTHER ROYAL JR., who passed away January 13, 1951. As we look back over these five years, We all know you still linger near. Your gentle voice and smiling face. Have gone on to a peaceful place. Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Royal,
Sisters and Brother.

THOMPSON—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, IDA MAE THOMPSON who passed January 17, 1955. It is loneliness here without you. And sad and weary the way. Life has not been the same. Since you were called away.

WISDOM—In loving memory of our dear mother, FLORA WISDOM who passed away January 7, 1945. When a mother breathes her last farewell, The stroke means more than tongue can tell.
